

The CONCEPT OF SPECIES AND ITS NORMATIVE DIMENSION

JUNE 21-22, 2018

ZENTRUM FÜR LITERATUR- UND KULTURFORSCHUNG (ZFL)
SCHÜTZENSTRASSE 18, BERLIN

THURSDAY, JUNE 21

- 1:30 - 2:00 pm Registration and Refreshments
- 2:00 - 2:15 pm Welcome and Opening Address
Markus Rothhaar (Eichstätt)
- 2:15 - 3:15 pm Species and Human Nature
Marc Ereshefsky (Calgary)
- 3:30 - 4:30 pm From Evolution to the Lab: The Importance of Genealogy for the Species Concept between Science and Society
Maria Kronfeldner (Budapest)
- 4:45 - 5:45 pm Homo sapiens, Humans, Moral Agents – Three Concepts in Search of a Relation
Georg Toepfer (Berlin)
- 6:00 - 7:00 pm Ethical Knowledge and Knowledge of One's Form
Michael Thompson (Pittsburgh)

FRIDAY, JUNE 22

- 9:00 - 10:00 am Are Species Boundaries Morally Significant?
John Basl (Boston)
- 10:15 - 11:15 am Species in Bioethics: Which Concept of Species is Relevant for Bioethics?
Markus Rothhaar (Eichstätt)
- 11:30 - 12:30 am The Manifold Species of Normativity in Aristotelian Naturalism
Martin Hähnel (Eichstätt)
- 1:30 - 2:30 pm A Defence of a Weak Form of Direct Speciesism
Dieter Birnbacher (Düsseldorf)
- 2:45 - 3:45 pm What is it to be Human? Practical Self-understanding and the Role of the Species
Marcus Düwell (Utrecht)
- 4:00 - 5:00 pm The Role of Humanity and Species-membership in Legal Thinking
Ralf Müller-Terpitz (Mannheim)
- 5:00 pm Close

ORGANISED BY

KATHOLISCHE UNIVERSITÄT
EICHSTÄTT-INGOLSTADT

SPONSORED BY THE

Federal Ministry of Education and Research

Registration: bianca.gerstner@ku.de

More information: www.embryonenethik.de